Result of the Democratic Primary Election—The Republican Convention—The People's Party—Excitement on Fremont's Mariposa Claim—Quarrel between Frederick and Stebbins—The State Indebtedness—Fine Harvests and the Mines.

Correspondence of the New York Times.

The most important event that has occurred in California, during the fortnight ending June 5, is the Democratic Primary Election for delegates to the Sacramento Nominating Convention. The contest was interesting, inasmuch as it was understood to involve the question of sustaining the appointments for the State made by the President. Senator Broderick having been disappointed in getting the offices for his friends, was anxious to convince the Executive that the persons appointed were not acceptable to the Democracy of the State. But in this attempt he has been completely foiled. Of the members elected to the Convention, but forty-two are understood to be favorable to McCorkle, Broderick's candidate for Governor, while Weller, his opponent, has 134, and Nugent 11, Stanly 1, and Latham 1. There is little doubt that Weller will be nominated on the first ballot of the Convention, which meets on the 14th July. As soon as the result was generally known, the San Journal, Broderick's organ, was also severely pounced upon by attachments to the amount of over thirty thousand dollars, and its publication is consequently suspended. It is, in all probability, but a temporary stoppage, we already hear rumors of its speedy revival.

The Republicans have also begun to elect the delegates to their Convention, which is to assemble at Sacramento on the 8th of July—Capt. Thos. Gray, Edward Stanley, Col. E. D. Baker, and several others, are spoken of as the Fremont candidates of this party. It is impossible to tell in whose favor the chances are.

Besides the nominees of these two parties, there is some talk of running a third and independent candidate, by the "Reformers" or "People's Party." It is supposed that such a move, if he could unite the scattered fragments of the American organization, the settlers and the reformists, by his support, would be elected. Col. J. S. Watkins and Edward Stanly are now generally looked to as the most available men to lead in such a movement.

Considerable feeling has been manifested lately by the miners on Fremont's Mariposa claim. Meetings have been held, and resolutions denunciatory of Fremont and his agents, Palmer, Cook & Co., passed; and the miners declare that their first intention is to resist the encroachments of Fremont and his agents to the bitter end. In the case, also, of the Merced Mining Company vs. John C. Fremont, the Supreme Court of the State has granted a peremptory injunction upon Fremont, preventing him from interfering with the operations of the above Mining Company, which already has some $800,000 invested in works for taking out gold.

The "Stamp Act" passed by the last Legislature went into effect on the 1st of July. By it, all exchange, drafts, &c., drawn upon parties out of the State, are taxed by stamps, as are policies of insurance, passage tickets abroad, professional licenses, and like documents. The bill is very obnoxious to the people in San Francisco.

Business continues to be unusually depressed in San Francisco, and several of the busiest houses have been forced to suspend. In these times of difficulty, the outrageous features of our Attachment, Insolvent, and Homestead Laws, have been specially brought into notice, and a general determination to have them remied has been awakened. At present they but offer opportunities and premiums for the perpetration of rascality and fraud.

David C. Broderick U. S. Senator from California, had a personal difficulty on the last inst., with J. W. Stebbins, ex-secretary of the State Senate from Yuba. Stebbins formerly supported Broderick, but lately has changed his position on account of some real or supposed grievances. The two met in the office of a third party in this city, when, after some hard words, Broderick struck Stebbins in the face with his walking cane. Bystanders instantly interfered and prevented further hostilities.

Considerable attention is being attracted to the Grand State Industrial Fair which is to be held in San Francisco, on the 7th of December. A suitable building is to be constructed for the reception of articles for exhibition, and an interesting display is expected. On occasion will doubtless be taken advantage of by persons abroad interested in the introduction of new machinery, improved implements, &c., who will find a splendid opportunity for bringing them before the public.

Mining is carried on as successfully as ever, and new discoveries are constantly chronicled. Attention of capitalists is still being directed to other enterprises, and veins long since abandoned, for want of money to explore them, are now being opened to light. The difficulty in procuring the requisite materials for quartz crushing are far greater than ever before, and the machinery itself being simplified and effective, companies engaged in that branch of mining are generally doing better than ever before. The Quartz Mining Association adjourned sine die on the 19th.

New York Bank Statement.

The following is the statement for the week ending July 25: Loans, $118,848,131; specie, $12,956,855; circulation, $8,528 814; deposits, $67,377,025. The Herald (bear) of Wednesday says:

The last returns compared with those of the previous week, exhibit the following variations in the aggregates:

Increase in loans and discounts	$1,626 654
Increase in specie	1,000 000
Decrease in circulation	77,307
Increase in deposits	1,000 000

This statement cannot be considered otherwise than a very unfavorable one. With an increase in specie of one million, and in loans of half, we have an increase in deposits of only three hundred and seventy-one thousand dollars. With this we have a falling-off in the specie reserve of more than six hundred thousand dollars. The banks, it appears to us are placing themselves in a position of great weakness and endangering the great interests of the country. The present expansion must result in a very large and rapid contraction. It will be seen by the above table that from August 26 to November 7 last, a period of fourteen weeks, off about eight million of dollars. We must look for, in the corresponding period this year, a decrease in loans of a much larger amount.

From Washington.

Judge Mason, Commissioner of Patents, has positively placed his resignation in the hands of the President, and his place will be filled as soon as the proper person can be selected.—N. Y. Herald.

News from Oregon.

REPORT TO INTRODUCE SLAVERY—PREPARATIONS OF THE INDIANS FOR ANOTHER WAR.

Advices from Oregon Territory are to the 20th of June. The people of Oregon, having determined to come into the Union as a State, an effort is being made to engraft in the Constitution a provision to recognize Slavery—Messrs. Hall & Gibbs have issued a prospectus for a new Democratic paper to advocate this policy, to be published in Benton County.

The Oregonian of the 13th June says:

We have private letters from the Dalles, the import of which is, that the Indians have fired upon the whites several times recently, between the Dalles and Walla Walla. Mr. Brock, Whitney, the Walla Walla chief, had been arrested and placed in the guard-house at the Dalles. It is the general opinion that he was connected with the facts, that the Indians are concentrating at some point in the mountains, preparatory to recommencing the war again, as soon as the fishing season is over.

From Umpqua, O. T., we learn that apprehensions were entertained there of an Indian outbreak. The Siogan River Indians, headed by their chief, John, had left their new reservation and were returning to their old hunting grounds. The garrison at Umpqua, numbering only twenty-five soldiers, was too weak to hinder the Indian march, or perhaps to preserve itself.

The Puget Sound Indians are quiet, but large bands of Northerners still hang about the English side, and continue to annoy the settlers by crossing to our side. Major Hall was in charge of some twelve or fifteen canoes that had come across and struck a canoe with the crew of the Sound Indians, and either murdered or carried them off as slaves. The Major was on board the United States revenue cutter Jefferson Davis, with some regulars, that being the only means he could command to protect the frontier; and that is of but little use at this time of year, on account of the frequent calms. A number of families had left Whitley's Island and other parts of the frontier, and moved up the Sound, the Northerners say they believe they will return to the Fall they will have three American heads for each one of their people that was killed last winter by the Northern Indians. We have lately killed and taken away a number of our Indians, and it is fully believed that they will carry their threats into execution against the white, unless a war steamer is sent to protect the frontiers.

News from Panama and Nicaragua.

Our advices from Panama are to the 19th of July. The New-Granadian revolution still rages in Cauca. If we are to believe El Tiempo, a semi-official paper published at Bogota, the difficulty with the United States is virtually settled. A late manifesto has been issued, authorizing the Executive to adjust the American claim, the only prohibition being that of alienating the right of national sovereignty in any part of the Territory of New Granada, or disowning of the responsibility of the Government in the Panama affair, or to therefore the transactions therein authorized to offer or accept the arbitration of a friendly Government, whose decision shall be final.

From Nicaragua.—Yesterday morning, Mr. J. R. Anderson found a fine, healty male child, about six months old, which had been left upon his door step by some person unknown. The child was sent to the Police office. We hope it will not be sent to a house of ill fame to be reared.

QUEER WAY TO GO A HUSBAND.—There is a rumor afloat in our city relative to a member of one of our most respectable families which would indicate that Benedicts are in demand just now. It appears a girl residing a short distance from the city, became acquainted with the family above alluded to and induced a son and daughter to ride her at her father's home, said after the young man had retired she entered his room and voluntarily forfeited her virtue. She then demanded that he should marry her or she would enter a complaint against him for seduction. A minister was sent for and the victimized youngster was frightened into complying with her demand. He afterward informed his parents insist he shall never live with her. Thus the affair stands at present. The young man is only about eighteen years of age and the girl is twenty-three.

NEAR ENOUGH.—Some relishes a conundrum but he is gifted with a wonderfully treacherous memory, and can't for the life, remember the correct answer. The other night at the supper table Jones was entertaining the other night and, as usual, he proposed a conundrum which he said he read in the papers. It was: "When is a lady not a lady? There was a long pause and one by one those present entered the ground: "give it up" when to the horror and disgust of the entire company Jones replied: "When she's a little baggy?" Those present looked at each other but nobody laughed, indignation had usurped the place of smiles upon the faces of all present, while some were disposed to scratch—Jones included—for their own part, and appeared not a little disappointed at the cold manner in which his intended witticism was received. The possibility that he had blundered flashed across his mind, and pulling out an old paper from his pocket he consulted it a moment and exclaimed—"O, I beg your pardon ladies, I've made a mistake. The real answer is 'when she's a little sinky.' I knew it was some sort of a wagon."

AN IRISHMAN'S BLUNDER.—An unmistakable Irish physiognomy poked itself into the door of our Sanatorium, yesterday, whereupon the following conversation ensued:

Pat.—Is the Idetur in sure?

We.—Yes, what do you want with him.

Pat.—Faix, and it's right for a man to to out whin he's in jail? Is there only law for?

We.—Why yo, none that we know of—what's up now?

Pat.—Sure, sir, and I saw O'Malley, the justice what's in the Bridewell, sizling in the street wid a man in a wagon, an I'd like to know what right he'd in takin' out whin he's in jail.

We tried to explain to Pat that O'Malley was still a Justice of the Peace, in spite of his conviction for a criminal offence, and that it was sometimes necessary to take him from the Bridewell to his own house in order to procure transcripts from his record, but Pat would not be convinced, and went away mentally ejaculating "there's no law fur a man's bein' out whin he's in jail."

DRY UP.—The fate of Chicago hangs on a peg. Would Milwaukians have the temerity to ruin us? They let them go on in their folly. To build a line of boats to run across Lake Michigan in connection with the Grand Haven & Detroit Railroad, through "at will" contracts, and of course (we are told by our Racine friends) cause the Racine folk to put in a link and from their place across the Lake, build a rail track there on, pump out the water in the slip and, consequently, ruin the nautical prospects of Chicago. Nonsense!

In the exigencies of the times, would not an injunction against such proceedings, had from the "Higher Court" be appropriate.

But then in some respects it would prove beneficial to the town. The sewerage would be complete with such a chance as this, of the bed of Lake Michigan being dry. The stinking light carcasses that would be had in that valley of death, (for the little fishes could not survive the catastrophe if we could) and 'gon my word the Dutch project of running the water pipes to Milwaukee and straddling the line between there would have to be changed or else die. Let us have an injunction by all means.

OUR CITY HOSPITAL.—The Albany Journal thus commends upon the action of the Board of Health in placing the City Hospital under the charge of two Medical Boards, one Allopathic and the other Homeopathic:

A HOSPITAL DIVIDED—BUT NOT AGAINST ITSELF.—The City Hospital Board of Health have divided the large Hospital of that city, under the charge of two Medical Boards, one of the Allopathic School of Medicine, and the other of Homeopathy.

The division of patients between these two antagonistical systems of cure, is thus minutely effected: Immediately after being taken into the Hospital, the patient, if in a condition to talk, is asked by the Warden, "Are you under the charge of the Allopathic or Homeopathic Board?" His preferences if expressed, assigns him to one body or another. If he is unconscious, or if the patient in his weakness so choose, he is allotted to one of the two Boards by rotation which gives the patients in the first week to the Allopathic, in the second to the first Monday of July, all to the Allopathic, and those entering in uneven weeks, to the Homeopathic Board.

Upon the belief of the Health Officers that not more than seventy of the patients brought to the Hospital would express a desire to be treated Homeopathically, only one-fourth of the building is assigned to the Homeopathic Board. This accommodation is to be enlarged or diminished, as experience shall demonstrate that its proportion is too small or too large.

Chicago will ever furnish the material for an immense hospital practice. The public have an interest that the hospital brought to the charge by the Board of Health, of comparing strictly impartially the success of two systems of cure, particularly that in epidemic diseases, shall be fully improved. The records of the treatment and history of all cases admitted in the Hospital, kept by the two Boards separately, should be published monthly in comparative tabular forms in the Chicago papers.

ARNOT'S REPLACEABLE OIL BOX.—This is a new and valuable invention just patented by Mr. Arnott, and one well worthy the attention of railroad men.

This improvement possesses all the advantages of any other box in removing and replacing brass boxes or bearings, and dispenses with the complication of wedge or slide, and can be done in two minutes. This box, if properly constructed, is a perfect equalizer of weights and pressures, and will, at all times, distribute an equal amount of pressure on the heel and front end of the box. This item alone is of great importance to Railroad companies, as the brass bearings will wear much longer, and are less liable to heat when the pressure is even on all parts of the journal.

The patentee is to remove and replace this box by placing a jack screw under the corner of the truck and elevate it until the spring is relieved, which is then taken out; then raise the spring seat so as to bring the lugs above the oil box; the brass bearing being then removed, the oil box can then be taken out and replaced without detaching the pedestal strap.

This box can be made to receive gum, cubic, or elliptic springs, and the equalizer bar. The novelty in this box is the arrangement of the lugs in combination with the recesses, holding the box in its place and securing the lateral strain.

The object of this improvement is to afford an easy and quick method of removing oil boxes from the pedestal jaws of our trucks. This operation, it is well known, has heretofore been attended with expense, from the fact of its being necessary to remove them for the purpose of repacking to exclude the dust, retain the oil, and fit new boxes to the journals, &c.

With the old style of oil box, the truck must be taken from under the car, and the wheels out of the truck before the box can be taken out. It is often necessary to remove the box, but owing to the time and expense it involves, it is often neglected.

By this improvement these repairs can be done in minutes in place of consuming hours. Any person familiar with this box can remove it from and replace it again in the pedestal in less than five minutes.

The use of this Patent incurs no expense over that of other boxes, and can be readily made to receive any that those company's favorite axle or brass box, as there need be no complication by its introduction on any road, old or new, that will affect the harmony of similarity, or add expense by the change. No change will be made for the trial of it in Patents on any road, and all railroad companies are lasting to try it and test its merits for themselves. Although it has been patented but a few months, yet it is in use on about two thousand miles of railway.

Mr. Arnott has a large number of letters from those who have tendered their approving of its invention and who speak in the highest terms of its many excellencies, but instead of publishing them, Mr. Arnott prefers to have the actual merits of the improvement tested in order that it may recommend itself. Those wishing information should address W. B. Arnott, Chicago, Illinois.

THE ONLY HOPE TO THE AFFLICTED.—Some people are slow to believe between what they suffer, and are so but blind them, for fancied ills to be cured by the numerous quack nostrums that are daily forced upon the credulous public's notice. From the newspaper columns of which, we select the following, which we have reason to believe is entirely reliable, and worthy the attention of those who are afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in the advertisement:

DAILY TRIBUNE.
No. 51 CLARK STREET.
CITY OF CHICAGO.
Thursday Morning.....July 30, 1857.

The Ide by Immedo.

Yesterday Mr. Ide, the defaulting Cashier of the Bank of Commerce, was brought before Justice Morgan, and after a hearing of the case, was committed to the County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The hearing was had in the Justice's office, and was conducted with closed doors. The evidence was not made public, but we understand that it was sufficiently strong to warrant the commitment of the prisoner. Mr. Ide was then taken to the County Jail, where he will remain until the meeting of the Grand Jury, unless he shall be admitted to bail. The amount of money which he has taken from the Bank of Commerce is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. The latter sum—a round hundred thousand dollars—is probably not far from the truth. Mr. Ide has been a resident of this city for many years, and has always borne the character of a man of strict integrity and honor. He has been a member of the Presbyterian Church for a long time, and has been considered a pillar in that society. He has been a prominent member of the Board of Trade, and has been connected with many of the most important commercial transactions of the city. He has been a man of family, and has a wife and children residing in this city. He has been a man of wealth, and has lived in a style of elegance and luxury. He has been a man of business, and has had the confidence of the community. He has been a man of character, and has had the respect of all who knew him. He has been a man of honor, and has had the esteem of all who knew him. He has been a man of integrity, and has had the confidence
